NEWEST VITA PLAY

Beautiful dance scenes form atmosphere for Harry Morey's new picture "In Honor's Web." These scenes form the setting of a big dramatic feature of the play.

GIRLS! DRAW A
MOIST CLOTH
THROUGH HAIR

Let "Danderine" save your hair and double its beauty

Oh, girls, such an abundance of thick, heavy, invigorated hair; a perfect mass of wavy, silky hair gloriously fluffy bright and so easy to manage.

Just moisten a cloth with a little "Danderine" and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this magically removes all dirt, excess oil and grease, but your hair is not left brittle, dry, stringy or faded, but charmingly soft, with glossy, golden gleams and tender lights. The youthful glints, tints and color are again in your hair.

"Danderine" is a tonic-beautifier. Besides doubling the beauty of the hair at once, it checks dandruff and stops falling hair. Get delightful Danderine for a few cents at any drug or toilet counter and use it as a dressing and invigorator as told on bottle.—Adv.

FAMED TENOR AT PROF. HUGO'S CONCERT

Umberto Sorrentino Will Sing Part of "The Temple Dancer."

With no less an artist than Umberto Sorrentino, the famous tenor of several opera companies in the United States, to interpret the beauty of "The Temple Dancer" in song, the concert to be given by Prof. John Adam Hugo, Bridgeport's most beloved composer and pianist, at the High school auditorium on November 24, will be an event of great interest to music lovers.

Mr. Sorrentino has sung in the New York Metropolitan Opera company, the Boston Opera House and the Chicago Opera company. During the last four years, however, he has devoted a good deal of his time to concert work. He will sing a number of Mr. Hugo's compositions and will be assisted by the composer himself. Mrs. Charles D. Davis will give several vocal solos and Mr. Hugo has arranged a delightful program of piano compositions.

Members of the Wednesday Afternoon Musical club are deeply interested in the concert and have volunteered to assist in making the event a success. This is the first time that Prof. Hugo's "The Temple Dancer," which has been presented in the Metropolitan Opera House a short time ago, will be sung at his own concert. Selections of the productions have been given at a concert by the Wednesday Afternoon Musical Club recently and received a great ovation.

At the top, hem, and insert a drawing and on the bottom sew on a silk floss and you will have a good undershirt.

Old stockings need not be thrown away when the feet are worn out. The feet can be cut off and the stockings opened up in the steam, making a piece about 18x12 inches. Two pairs of stockings opened thus and sewed together will make a top of an undershirt.

MORE PRESS BUNK WITH A VENGEANCE

Finis Fox, of the Screen Classics scenario staff, is like all men. After roast beef, two cups of coffee, and a sector of cherry pie, he becomes communicative; at times reminiscent. He spoke recently of his boyhood vagaries. "When my mother sent me out to fill the wood box I would stand, my splendid head bared to the evening breezes, and declaim glorious orations to the wood pile, silent, inscrutable and unhearing." "How do you know it was unhearing?" asked one. "There might have been a nigger in it."

"SOME BABY"

"Some Baby" the highly successful stage farce has been purchased for Viola Dana's next starring vehicle.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody can Tell when you Darken Gray, Faded Hair with Sage Tea.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied.—It's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.—Adv.

Newtown High School
Battle Stands As Draw
With Hickson In Office

Trial Body Stands Three to Three, on Sectarian Lines, and Town is About Similarly Divided —Some Pupils Sent to Private School, Others Return to High School.

Newtown, Nov. 12.—The Newtown High school scandal continues to simmer, but the school committee is deadlocked, along strict lines of division, three to three, with little hope of an agreement. Leo Hickson, principal of the school, continues to be sent to private schools. Others have returned to the tuition of Mr. Hickson, and others never left the school at all.

It seems to be admitted that at the least the group opposed to Mr. Hickson failed to look to its evidence sufficiently to sustain charges of immorality.

At least the equal division of the committee makes it impossible to get a legal declaration that the charges are sustained. Some children have been sent to private schools. Others have returned to the tuition of Mr. Hickson, and others never left the school at all.

The trouble arose out of the resignation of a high school teacher, Miss Spring. She claimed that she was forced to resign by reason of the arbitrary treatment of the superintendent. Since her coming to the school she has won favor with a large number of the pupils in the high school. On the day she was leaving town, a number of the pupils stayed out of school to bid her goodbye. These pupils then went on a strike and refused to return to the high school. A petition was at once circulated asking the school committee to reinstate Miss Spring and to inquire into the rumors of immoral conduct on the part of the superintendent, Mr. Hickson.

Both sides to the controversy employed attorneys and Mr. Hickson at once demanded that he be informed as to the immoral acts with which he was charged. He was accused of hugging and kissing one of the young ladies who taught in the high school. The hearing before the committee were held in executive session, but the members of the committee have told what transpired in the hearings and the town pretty generally knows the nature of the evidence against Mr. Hickson.

The principal witness against him was a man who lives in the neighborhood of the high school building. He testified that on different occasions during the past year he saw Mr. Hickson hugging this young lady in front of a window in the hallway of the upper floor of the building. This accusing witness is not a native of Newtown, but an old time resident here. He came from a neighboring community, where he lived for years and was well known. Two men of standing and responsibility in the community from which this witness came testified before the school committee that this man, who accused Mr. Hickson, had a very bad reputation in the town from which he came and that they would not believe him under oath. Furthermore, Mr. Hickson denied on oath that there was any foundation for the accusation.

The hallway, at the window of which Mr. Hickson was charged with this indecent exposure, has opening off of it to several school rooms. It is an open hallway at the head of the stairs which could be entered by anybody in the building.

The superintendent has an office adjoining the hall where he could exclude himself from all observation, if he were inclined to commit the acts with which this witness charged him.

A boy testified that he saw the superintendent on the Fourth of July afternoon at Lake Quassapaug near Waterbury in the company of this school teacher. This statement was shown to be in error. Newtown had a parade and a celebration on the Fourth of July. Newtown knew that Mr. Hickson was in this parade at the head of the school children and remained at the public speaking at the town hall the entire afternoon.

A young woman, a school teacher in one of the district schools, who had taught for two months, testified before the committee that Mr. Hickson appeared in her school on one of his visits to the other schools, that he visited on the occasions that he visited the school of the young woman who accused him of immorality. The teachers from these other schools appeared before the committee and testified that Mr. Hickson, on those days was absolutely sober. Mr. Hickson has been in Newtown nearly four years.

A large number of men in the group, opposed to Mr. Hickson, while they feel that charging him with immorality was unwise and unfair to him, still believe that in view of the spirit of antagonism which has been created, that it would be better for the school system of Newtown that Mr. Hickson should retire. They say that his method of handling the schools has been arbitrary and that his discipline has been too strict. The supporters of Mr. Hickson, on the other hand, however, say that they will not permit him to retire. They say that the charges of immorality have fallen flat and that he was never charged with being arbitrary in his treatment of teachers and pupils until this trouble broke over the resignation of Miss Spring. They say that he has been in charge of the High school for nearly four years and that it is his duty to see that the treatment and lack of diplomacy, of which complaint is now made, did not become known until the resignation of Miss Spring. They say that back of the whole agitation is a prejudice which ought to be beneath men and women of intelligence.

The townspeople, however, are divided into two camps, one of which has opened a private school which is being attended by their children. The other group are steadfast in their support of Mr. Hickson and insist that he has brought the standard of the schools of Newtown up to a highly satisfactory point and that he has got to get a square deal.

MAGDOWELL DAY CELEBRATED BY CLUB

MacDowell Day was fittingly celebrated by the members of the Wednesday Afternoon Musical club yesterday afternoon at the Stratfield ball room when a program composed entirely of MacDowell compositions were arranged with a brief sketch of the life of the great composer and a most delightful and interesting review of the Peterboro Biennial held recently.

The wonderful imagination and poetic feelings of the beloved composer were woven into the numerous compositions selected by the members for the afternoon. Both the piano and vocal solos had the depth of feeling and tender colorful display so characteristic of MacDowell.

Mrs. Frederick M. Card traced the life of the great composer and noted his devotion to the art of music, told of his studies in Europe and America and his final recognition in this country as the leading American composer. Miss Mary Louise Peck, delegate to the Peterboro biennial, painted a vivid picture of the great events of the two days' session. The affair was a genuine musical love feast and the artists who had gathered from all over the country, and MacDowell their sincere and ardent tribute.

Mrs. Susan Hawley Davis, with her crystal, golden voice, delighted with "My Jean" and "The Sea." Miss Edna Northrop played the piano accompaniment. Miss Charlotte Davis, who was a contestant in the National prizes offered musicians by the National Federation of Music Clubs, played "Sonata Eroica," third movement, "Praeludium," from the Second Modern Suite, "The Witches' Dance," and "The Concert Etude." She was given hearty applause for her wonderful rendition of the difficult compositions.

Plans, solos, including "Shadow Dance," "To a Wild Rose," "Melodie" and "Hungarian Dance," were given by Mrs. Louis Snyder and Miss S. Belle Blackstone and Miss Ethel Pines delighted with choice piano pieces, "Forest Spirits," "Summer Idyl," and "The Hunted Forest," made a good combination and reminded one of MacDowell's love for the depths of the woods where he often searched for seclusion. Mrs. Mary Morse-Grannis rendered "Constancy," "Sunrise" and "Merry Maiden Spring." She was accompanied by Miss Peck at the piano, "Sea Pieces," given by Mrs. Lewis F. Hall, received great response from the audience.

EXTRA TRAINS TO GAME.

It is practically assured that a larger number of people will attend the Yale-Princeton football game at New Haven next Saturday than have ever witnessed a similar contest between these two universities. The New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad has provided for adequate train service for the Bridgeport people who will go to the game.

Coach trains will leave Bridgeport at 9:58 a. m. and 10:33 a. m., Saturday, due New Haven at 10:21 and 11:10 a. m. respectively. Returning trains will leave New Haven directly after the game. An extra evening train for Bridgeport will leave New Haven at 11:45 p. m. To avoid delay purchase round trip tickets in advance.

Bolt a little vinegar in frying pans before washing and you will be surprised at the result.

The Happiness That Stays

Russell Sage, a hard-headed and shrewd observer, uttered a great truth once when he said, that in this life no man could be permanently happy unless he invariably lived up to the principle of spending less than he earned. He who spends all he loses all. There is more gloom than joy in an empty pocket book. Even if a man's prospects are bright for the future, the deviation from the rule spells defeat to him sooner or later.

SOME DANGERS ENCOUNTERED ON OUR HIGHWAYS

There is complaint from automobile drivers of the many danger spots along the highways. Where the roadway runs closely to the edge of a bank without any guard rail there is always a chance that some one will go down and the car turn over. Many drivers persist in keeping well to the center of the road when meeting other cars. The machine that is forced out to one side is very apt to skid over such banks if the road is muddy. And sand is an even worse material to skid in. There are many narrow roads with deep ditches on each side and no protection whatever. Considering the carelessness of many drivers and their disposition to hog the road, it is surprising that there are no more accidents. But as it is, the unprotected bank causes a great many. The careful man will stop his car altogether rather than meet another in a dangerous place. Ditches along the sides of the road can not be avoided. In a great many places they are necessary for drainage. But they can usually be protected. The ideal way is to erect strong guard rails along steep banks. If this is considered too expensive, a good protection is created by scraping up a ridge of firm soil at the side of the road. A road ought never to slope into a dangerous ditch.
